University ID Card Information

Your University of Maryland ID Card does not have a photo. You must carry an official, state-issued, photo ID with you at all times. Several of the course-related field trips are to buildings or areas that require a security check.

Purpose
The UMD non-photo ID card provides a general form of identification issued solely for the purpose of accessing programs and services administered by UMD and its legal agents. Authority to issue ID cards is delegated solely to the Office of the Registrar.

Eligibility
The ID card is issued to persons who are currently enrolled as students UMD. The University reserves the right to confiscate any ID used in an inappropriate manner.

Access to Programs and Services
Students in Terp Young Scholars use their UMD ID cards to access the University Libraries, Campus Recreation Services, Shuttle UM Services and information services.

Duration
The non-photo ID card should be carried at all times on campus and is intended to serve an individual throughout their affiliation with the University. You must also carry an official, state-issued, photo ID.

Replacement
UMD photo ID cards will be replaced free of charge only in the following instances:

1) The ID card no longer possesses a valid bar code;
2) The ID card has become worn and no longer functions properly; or
3) A police report identifying a stolen ID is presented at the time of replacement.

The replacement of an ID card will carry a charge of $25 if the student has lost their card or whose actions resulted in damage to the card (i.e. punched holes in the card, intentionally snapped card in two, etc.).

If you lose your card, contact a mentor or call 301-405-7762.
